50 TAGS NOW RECEIVED BY CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT

Metal tags taken from some of the 5,000 trout tagged last October by the fish division of the conservation department are being received daily. About fifty of these tags have now been mailed in. Jan Metzelaar, biologist of the fish division, says that in the majority of cases information received with the tags indicates that the fish have grown from one to two inches during the intervening eight months.

BAY CITY PARTIES FINED

The "Ben Bow" a Saginaw Bay commercial fishing boat owned by the Cavanaugh Fish Company of Bay City has been confiscated by the conservation department and its operator Clifford Smith fined fifty dollars and costs of $5.00, when conservation officers discovered perch taken during a closed season and undersized pickeral in his possession concealed in the "Ben Bow."

JENS EILERSON FOUND DEAD

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Jens Eilerson on returning from the funeral of Rasmus Jorgenson found Mr. Eilerson dead in the garden at their farm home. When she left home he was busy fixing the roof of a chicken coop and seemed perfectly well. Apparently he took ill while working and in trying to make his way to the house fell dead.

Mr. Eilerson was born in Salter, Denmark, Dec. 28, 1860. In 1887 when so many of the Danish people were locating in this part of the country, Mr. Eilerson came also and for a number of years worked in the woods. Then later when the Salling Hanson mills were established he was employed for the company until he bought his farm north of town. In 1892 he was married to Miss Ellen Christensen here in Grayling and she survives him today.

The funeral was held at the Danish Lutheran church Monday afternoon with a large gathering of neighbors and friends in attendance. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Those from out of town who came to be present at the funeral were Mrs. Signa Rasmussen, John H. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, Mrs. Margaret Green and two sons, Miss Helen Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Borno, Emory Mowbray and Ole Wium, all of Detroit.

MRS. SAMUEL JOHNSON DIES SUDDENLY

Remains Brought to Grayling for Burial

Mrs. Anna Marie Johnson, wife of Samuel Johnson of Iron Mountain passed away suddenly at her home Wednesday evening of last week. Mrs. Johnson complained of not feeling very well and Mr. Johnson went to summon a physician and shortly after his return home she passed away.

The Johnson family were former residents of Grayling many years, moving to Iron Mountain about four years ago.

Anna Marie Jensen was born in Denmark in the year 1886 and her girlhood was spent in her native country. At the age of 20 years she came to America and to Grayling and a few years later became the wife of Samuel Johnson.

The remains were brought to Grayling Saturday afternoon and were taken to the home of the deceased's cousin, Mrs. Hansine Hanson, from where the funeral was held Sunday afternoon. Services were held at the Danish Lutheran church and were attended by a large congregation of old friends and neighbors of the family. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Besides those above mentioned Mr. and Mrs. John Larson and sons, Lester and Kenneth of Lansing came to be in attendance at the funeral.

With pretty green drapes and the color scheme of green and ivory carried out in the wall decorations and floor covering, the place is very attractive and cheery. Mrs. Bubenmeyer is an excellent cook and no doubt will get her share of patronage.

The Seniors made a real hit with their audience in the play "Clarence" given at the school auditorium last Friday night. It was put on under the direction and coaching of Principal LaVerre Cushman. It was well directed and every part well taken. The young people deserve a lot of credit for their graceful and pleasing way they took their parts. As usual with such plays there was a good attendance. One of the hits of the evening was the Luke and Hiram dialogue given by Will Garner and Elmer Fenton. Their witty cracks and singing specialties drew a lot of applause.

If Grayling wins the baseball game with Gaylord Saturday they will have clear claim to the state championship. Already they have won five straight games with an average of sixteen runs per game to their opponents four, and their batting average is .372, which goes to show that they are heavy hitters. For some of the team it is their first year and they are doing remarkably well. Saturday will be the big game of the season as they won at Gaylord recently by a 4 to 2 score, and no doubt the Pineapple City bunch will make them work every minute. The game will be called at 2:30 and the team would appreciate the support of the public. Admission 25c.

PLAN MEMORIAL TO LUMBER INDUSTRY IN HURON NATIONAL FOREST

(By E. M. T. Service)

A group of prominent former Michigan lumbermen and descendants of former lumbermen met at East Tabor, Friday, May 24, and after selecting a site in the Huron National Forest overlooking the historic AuSable river decided to erect thereon a memorial to the Michigan lumbermen of the old lumber days. The memorial will have as its dominant motif a heroic statue of a lumberjack or a riverman a granite or bronze shaft with base reliefs of old-time figures.

Those present representing the old and present lumbering interests were: W. B. Mershon, Saginaw; F. V. Hanson, Grayling; John W. Blodgett, Grand Rapids; C. Rust Macpherson, Saginaw; Charles T. Mitchell, Cadillac; George J. Burrows, Saginaw; H. E. Fletcher, Allan M. Fletcher and Robert Rayburn, Alpena.

Those present visited many places in the 300,000-acre forest and saw the process of reforestation from the planting of seedlings to the growing of trees on some of the 30,000 acres under cultivation, the oldest of which is 18 years of age. The reaction of the visitors was expressed by Mr. Mershon when he said, "I am glad to see what norways are doing on what I was led to believe was worthless soil."

After the forest visit a formal meeting was held at which W. B. Mershon was chosen chairman of a general committee which will have in charge the erection of the memorial. John W. Blodgett was chosen chairman of a committee to select the form of memorial, engage craftsmen for its creation, etc. Mr. Mershon was chosen chairman of a finance committee.

Mr. Mershon said that correspondence which he has had on the subject which 50 or 70 families in all sections of the country guaranteed the success of the project.

The decision regarding the site was influenced through the fact that the site overlooks the AuSable river, is the center of a U. S. Federal Forest of 800,000 acres which will insure its perpetuity.

TROUT EFFECTED BY TEMPERATURE

Like all life, the game fish of Michigan and especially the trout are affected by the temperature of their environment. To what extent, and how this factor can be controlled by human agency is told in the following story by Mr. Jan Metzelaar, biologist of the fish division of the department of conservation.

"Hundreds of millions of young trout have been planted into the streams of Michigan by the department of conservation. When this work was first begun many years ago little attention was paid to the individual character of these waters; but around 1922 the foundation was laid for a general survey of our Michigan trout streams. This resulted in the working out of methods for their proper stocking. Each surveying party was expected to describe conditions as they found them, that is: the stream and the changes effected by human agencies such as lumbering, dredging, damming, agriculture, and various forms of pollution.

"The next step after a study of these conditions will be recommendations as to the establishing of the best environment for trout and trout fishing.

"Under Michigan conditions the outstanding factor affecting trout life is the temperature of a stream. This is influenced by lumbering, dredging, damming, agriculture, etc. There is a common notion abroad that the temperature of a stream should be as low as possible for trout and that the fish would thrive best in ice-water. This is a fallacy. The trout which we have in Michigan do not thrive at all in the Arctic or in glacier-fed mountain streams. It is true that they shun the high temperature of our lowland waters, but it is equally true that they shun extreme cold. We find that our various species thrive best where conditions are such that the day maximum does not exceed 68 degrees Fahrenheit on hot summer days.

"If a certain stream in the north is found to be comparatively cold and the trout in that stream constantly eat and digest food and consequently grow less than their brethren in a slightly warmer stream, the water temperature may be raised by the construction of small dams, creating trout ponds, or by the introduction of beaver on the headwaters of the stream and its tributaries—provided that there are no objections to the introduction of beaver. It must be remembered, however, that in the north the temperature may be raised too much because of the introduction of too many beaver. On the other hand most of the trout streams south of the Grand Saginaw Valley are very short. Many of them are supplied with sufficient cold-spring water, but they quickly lose their character as trout streams because the temperature rises too high as a result of exposure to the heat of the sun.

"Because of the varying temperature factor in these valuable trout streams, their reconditioning is a more fundamental line of work than planting, as the production of a stream depends not only on stocking with certain species of fish, but also largely on the conditions under which these fish must live in the streams.

"The temperature of southern trout streams could be more or less effectively controlled by the planting of a fringe of brush and small trees along the banks. The cooperation of all the people concerned is indispensable to obtain favorable results.

"Throughout the southern tiers of counties from Berrien and Van Buren to Jackson are scattered small trout streams. They are short and stunted but heavily fished, and mile for mile they are among the most valuable streams in Michigan. Many of them have been at some time ditched and the dirt ramparts still remain on both sides of the stream. Often beautiful, clear water is found with lots of cress, but a quickly rising temperature, too high for trout. All these streams require is shade. To provide this shade, brush and small trees should be planted along the

By comparing this with the sand ramparts and protected from size of the trout, the growth under grass fringes by ploughed furrows along varying conditions can be computed. "By comparing these data for the main trout streams many worth while things can be found out about them."

KONJOLA BLAZES ON MAMMOTH SIGN ON BOARDWALK OF ATLANTIC CITY!

The Mosby Medicine Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, producers of Konjola, proprietaries which are advertised in more than 900 daily papers in the United States, has just completed daily press, as an advertising medium in Atlantic City, the largest Neon sign tube and electric bulb sign in the world, at a cost of $117,000. This sign, which it is estimated that newspaper advertising in a thousand 20,000,000 visitors to the world-famous boardwalk will see each season, is 31 feet high and 84 feet long. This striking sign, mounted on the Atlantic City, will feel like he is Central pier, is visible for blocks down the walk and beach. It contains KONJOLA flash, before his eyes over five miles of wire, 875 feet of luminous tubing and 3319 light sockets, and is regarded as a masterpiece both for its beauty and its attraction value.

"This splendid sign," says G. H. Mosby, president of the Mosby Medicine Company, "is, after all, a tribute to the power of newspaper advertising. Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:

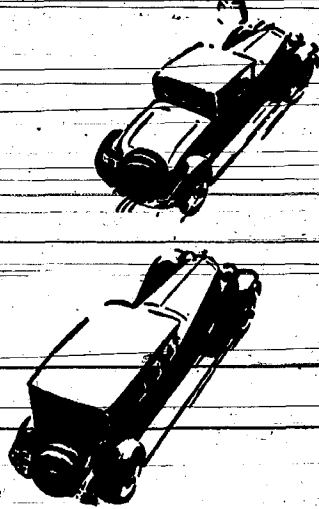

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00
Rebuild carburetor	1.50
Rebuild detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Rebuild brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebuild spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebuild spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	20.00
Repaint Touring Car	25.00
Reupholster Runabout	5.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.50

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

TAKE IT EASY

By Erwin Greer
(President Greer College, Chicago, Ill.)

One of the most difficult things to do is to persuade the average driver of a car that he can spare a few minutes and not run at high speed all of the time. The sight of a car ahead is to him a perpetual challenge. For no reason in the world he is seized with a mad desire to pass that particular car, and then the one ahead of that, until he can brag to his friends how many cars he passed on the trip. The warning bell of a railroad crossing inspires a longing to dash across the tracks ahead of the train. But he doesn't always win.

Any effort to persuade him to stop along the wayside for a moment is utterly futile. For some inexplicable reason he must keep going.

The law of general averages, it is claimed, shows that motor car owners who drive at a steady, consistent rate of speed reach their destination just about as soon, and with much more safety, than the erratic "spurts" driver.

Whenever some persons are at the wheel of a powerful car, they court death by "whipping" out of line every time there is a break in the flow of opposite moving traffic. In the course of a few miles they may have moved up fifteen or twenty cars and gained a possible half mile in the line, but to do this they have taken fifteen or twenty chances of a smash-up, not only their own, but more often of the cars they are passing.

There is never a time when careful driving is more essential than when you "cut" around the car in front. The natural tendency is to pull across their path as soon as your steering wheel has passed their radiator. When this does take place, the other car has no alternative but to take the ditch. Many a fatal accident, listed as cause unknown, is really believed to have resulted from driving evils.

Then at the end of the trip the driver will proudly tell of the time in which he made the run. If someone were to ask him why he probably would be unable to find an answer for usually there is no reason for such unseemly haste.

You really have time in life to enjoy yourself.

What is your hurry?

Slow down—and take it easy.

Civilization Defined

One in a million thinks one in a thousand speaks; the rest follow. Civilization is not much more.—Dr. Inaba, Nitobe, in "Japanese Traits and Foreign Influence."

The Care of Your Money

COMBATING SECURITY FRAUDS

In 1923, Horace J. Donnelly, United States Post Office inspector, estimated that $1,000,000,000 was lost annually in this country through blue sky promotions and wildcat schemes.

In September, 1923, Deputy Attorney General Oliver James of New York reported that stock frauds in New York State during that year had enriched swindlers by more than $500,000,000. It was his opinion that New York State accounts for about half of the losses through worthless stocks. He likewise estimated the national loss to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000 annually.

Yet it seems generally agreed that the average citizen is becoming more and more educated in financial matters, more skeptical about get-rich-quick schemes, and more insistent upon investigation before investing. Commenting on this fact, the Business Bureau of New York City, in a recent review of five years of fraud fighting, says:

"Blue sky promotions in radio, motion pictures, motor cars and oil, bucket shops, blind pools, fake subscription rights, and rejoining schemes no longer take heavy toll from the public. Flaming offenses have become legally dangerous and big swindling operations are now so expensive as to be unprofitable for the most part."

Although improvement along investment lines is evident, the fact that even now a billion dollars a year is being thrown away through carelessness shows that there still is a great deal of education to be done.

One way to make sure that your investments are safe is not to be wary of the wild-cat man, but to be so thoroughly acquainted with the basic facts of safe and profitable investments that you can intelligently analyze and come to a decision about the security being offered you.

The "Care of Your Money" articles running in this newspaper week after week have been especially prepared by Straus Brothers Investment Institute to educate you along basic financial lines. Read them, study them, keep them, remember them. They will do much toward paying the way to financial success.

(If you have any financial questions to ask, Straus Bros. Investment Institute will be glad to answer them without obligation on your part.)

FARM POULTRY

DRIED MILK WILL HELP CURE CHICK

Part of Treatment for Flocks With Coccidiosis.

For chicks affected with coccidiosis, a diet rich in milk is one of the measures advocated for the cure and control of the disease, by the poultry husbandry department of the Ohio State university. Not that simply feeding lots of milk is a sure or complete control measure. It must be employed as one of the features of a general treatment of which sanitation and prevention are the outstanding practices.

In combating coccidiosis in a flock the poultry husbandry department recommends four steps, giving epsom salts at the rate of one pound to four gallons of water; confining the chicks to the brooder house or moving the house to clean soil so that there is no recontamination from the soil; cleaning the brooder house thoroughly and disinfecting it every three days; and placing the chicks on a diet which is rich in milk.

Quick relief from a diet of liquid milk is not likely because the chick is not to consume enough of it. In using dry milk, best results are obtained when the mash is composed of 40 parts of dry milk. No other source of animal protein should be used in the mash.

The following mixture has been found to give satisfactory results when fed as soon as the disease appears and kept before the chicks as long as it is in evidence: dry skim milk, 40 pounds; wheat bran, 10 pounds; yellow corn meal, 20 pounds; ground rolled oats or barley, 20 pounds.

Selection of Breeding

Stock Helps Turkeys

One of the most important steps towards successful turkey production depends upon the proper selection of the breeding stock. Weak poult, small, scrubby, thin-skinned and unbalanced eggs are often traced to carelessness in the selection of the breeding stock. Turkeys that are used as breeders must possess those physical characteristics, known as strength and vigor. These characteristics are manifested as a general rule by a deep and wide body, the back broad and the breast round and full. The head shows certain physical characteristics of strength, namely: the eyes should be active and alert, the head should be fairly short, broad and deep and of good size, showing a clean, healthy appearance. The legs of the birds should be well apart, showing a strong, sturdy shank and straight toes. Considerable emphasis should be given to the selection of the male bird. This in itself should improve the stock from year to year. Early hatching, as a general rule, are sufficient matured to make good breeders the first season. One should avoid using the late hatching male birds for breeding purposes.

Oyster Shells Provide

Usually oyster shells provide a good source of lime for poultry. Quite often they are not broken up in sufficient small parts. But they are cheap and when clean and not scattered in with are safe. As a rule, they should be kept in clean self-feeders or places where they will not become contaminated. This will do most good when the birds are fed feeds containing vitamins, because lime is assimilated best in the presence of or when birds have the necessary vitamins to aid in digesting and assimilating it. If bone meal or healthy clean bones are crushed or ground and kept clean and wholesome, the good bone along with the vitamins will furnish lime and phosphate. But there are some things in the process of digesting and assimilating lime that are not known. Yet we know poultry must have some form of lime in their feed. Lime and phosphate may be obtained from other animal tissues and from vegetables and grains.

Hatch Chicks Early

Much has been said for or against early hatching of chicks. It is a question that every breeder and producer will need to answer according to his own circumstances. In making the decision he should take into consideration not only the immediate convenience, but also the future usefulness of the birds. It is a fact that early hatched chicks are more profitable winter layers, the same as fall freshening dairy cows are the most profitable milkers.

Skim Milk for Hens

On many farms skim milk is used with stock that will not pay as great a return for its use as when fed to poultry. Most records indicate that it is worth more when fed to poultry than to any other class of live stock. In fact, more poultrymen are feeding different types of condensed milk than all other classes of live stock. This indicates that poultry responds particularly well to milk feeding. The minerals in milk are also beneficial to the fowls.

WHAT IS CALLED CONVERSATION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK

Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Mrs. Allen had been very unhappy at Bath when she and her husband with their friend, Catherine Moreland, as guest went down for a few weeks' holiday. She had been very unhappy, indeed, I say until she met Mrs. Thorpe, an old schoolmate of hers whom she had not seen for years. Now she had someone to talk to, and at once the two old friends indulged in what Miss Austin tells us "there was scarcely any exchange of opinion and not often any resemblance of subject, for Mrs. Thorpe talked chiefly of her children and Mrs. Allen of her gowns." Neither one expected or cared for any particular response from the other. It was quite sufficient that there was a listener who would not attempt to stem the flow of words.

What is called conversation is often only two people in juxtaposition each of whom has an opportunity to give a monologue upon his own particular and favorite topic, whatever that may be.

When Mrs. Faris has been out of town for a time and is back in her own house all she wants is a chance to tell about her trip. Let her get started and you can go about your business quietly and without your saying a word she will run on for an hour giving every detail of what she said and what they saw and what everyone did and thought. She leaps from one topic to another with the agility of a mountain goat and would be quite surprised if anyone should indicate that the vocal exercise in which she is indulging is not conversation.

Gregory has opinions—very definite and settled opinions which he is eager and glad to express to anyone whose ear he can get for a few minutes. He drops into a group of men or he is invited to a dinner party, and immediately he takes matters into his own hands and begins what he would term a conversation with his friends. In point of fact it is an exposition, it is a discourse, it is an oration. It is a play of words in which Gregory takes all the parts. If you will listen to Gregory for a few minutes he will tell you exactly how the difficulties in which the farmer now finds himself can be amicably settled. He knows who is going to be the next president of the United States and why, and he has a solution of the problem of the unemployed which if people would only listen to him would put an end to strikes, labor riots, and general discontent. While Gregory is talking he expects pity and undivided attention. He doesn't like being interrupted or questioned while he is engaged in what he calls conversation. Every community, every organization, every group of a half dozen gathered together has its monologue artist like Gregory who labors under the delusion that when he is monopolizing the talk he is engaging in conversation.

Aids Protein in Wheat

Protein content of winter wheat may be increased one-third or more by application of sodium nitrate to the field when the wheat is heading, the Department of Agriculture says.

Man So Nervous Gets Sore When Spoken To

"It actually irritated me to have anyone talk to me. I was so nervous. Vinyl ended this and I feel wonderful now."—Wm. Fahy.

Vinyl is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc. give new life and pep. Vinyl tastes delicious. Mac & Gidley, Druggists.

FEWER GALLONS— LESS LABOR

We want you to know how few gallons of Heath & Milligan DEPENDABLE Paint you need to paint your buildings.

To illustrate, we will say your residence measures 30x40 feet and 20 feet high:

Front	30 feet
Rear	30 "
One side	40 "
Other side	40 "

Multiply by height 140
140x20=2800 square feet.

Allow one-fourth for trimming, edge of siding, corner boards, cornice, gables, etc. 700 "

3500 square feet to paint.

Heath & Milligan DEPENDABLE Paint covers 350 to 375 square feet per gallon—two coats. Divide the total square feet in this example, 3500—by 350 and you have 10 gallons.

Measure your own home and use the above example as a guide to determine how many gallons you need.

SCHOOL NOTES

Anyone happening to see Libby Matson running around, grasping at apparently nothing in the air, needn't be alarmed as to her sanity. She has recently been appointed a Probation Officer. Apply to Clara Bugby for particulars.

Monday the students were suffering from the heat. Some classes were held outdoors but it was much cooler in the well ventilated classrooms.

A Senior class meeting was held Monday. The class day program was arranged and is as follows:

Valedictory—Lewis Engle.
Salutatory—Ellen Speck.
Class History—Elmer Neal.
Class Will—Elmer Fenton.
Class Prophecy—Laura Knibbs.
Gifty—Wm. Garner.
Class Poem—Corrine Sheldon.
Class Song—Pauline Lietz.
President's Address—Stanley Stephan.

Mary Mahneke gave an oration, "At the Grave of the Unknown Soldier" by Warren C. Harding, at the Junior class assembly program Wednesday.

Mary Schumann was in Grand Rapids Monday.

Thorwald Sorenson was kept busy over the week end assisting his father as undertaker.

We wonder why Mr. Cushman became so angry Wednesday when asked to announce a special meeting of the school? They shouldn't keep us after school if they do not want new organizations in the school.

Last Tuesday the 9a and 9b Algebra classes held a contest on the "Cases" they have studied thus far. After three exciting rounds the 9b's were proclaimed victorious. The 9a's, because they lost, must give the 9b's a picnic some day this week.

Dorothy Hoelsi, being employed down the river, was out two days last week.

Last Wednesday, five certain members of the student body captured a huge fly for dissection. In order to kill it properly, it was placed in a glass flask and sulphuric and nitric acids were added. After this, it was extracted from the mixture by the president of the group and dissected. A very interesting as well as appetizing experiment?

We wonder why James Post uses the French class room as a dressing room—if you don't know perhaps Tressa could supply the information.

Miss Richards Hygiene class went on an expedition Monday morning. They went over to the tourist park and went through their daily dozen.

Hurray! Another victory for G.H.S. Last Friday we "Beat" West Branch with a very large score, 6-18.

Why all the ink blots on the last two rows of people in second hour session?

There are only three weeks more of school left and everyone seems to be working hard to get through. The last week will be used for exams and the checking up of credits received by pupils.

Lost—One wooden hammer, about a foot in length, brown in color, with wooden shaft and metal head. Mallet is much dented and scratched by frequent pounding. Shaft is loose so that it often comes off when it is struck suddenly—on a desk. Finder please return to Mr. Hill.

The Senior play went off with a bang and ended with a grand flourish last Friday night. The actors did their best and deserve much credit for putting on such an entertainment in so short a time.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

President's Law Enforcement Commission Begins Its Great Investigation.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S commission on law enforcement has been appointed and is about to begin its momentous task of investigating the evils and failures of federal judicial procedure. The President's selections for membership on this important body have met with warm approval. Its chairman is George W. Wickersham, attorney general of the United States during the Taft administration. The others are Frank J. Loesch, assistant state's attorney of Chicago; William S. Kenyon of Iowa, United States circuit judge; Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, secretary of war under Wilson; Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard law school; William A. Grubb of Alabama, United States district judge; Paul J. McCormack of California, United States district judge; Kenneth R. Mackintosh of Seattle, former chief justice of the Washington state supreme court; Monte M. Lemann, president of the Louisiana Bar association; Henry W. Anderson of Richmond Va., United States member of Mexican claims commission, and Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe college, Boston.

With the exception of Miss Comstock, every one of these is an eminent lawyer, and three of them, Loesch, Baker and Pound, have had special experience in crime investigation. The one woman on the commission is also the sole representative of the laity, and this great responsibility expressed that there is no one to share with her this great responsibility. Not one of the members has been actively identified with either the wet or the dry, although Judge Kenyon is generally regarded as the champion of the prohibitionists. Three of the commissioners, Baker, Grubb and Lemann, are Democrats.

Through the scope of the commission's activities is by no means limited to law enforcement. The prohibition laws, this phase of the investigation is looked upon as the most important and it is certain to be the most interesting to the people of America. Already the dry and wet organizations are marshaling their forces and preparing to present before the commission all the facts and arguments of their command. Mr. Hoover invited the members of the commission to eat lunch at the White House and listen to his outline of the scope and purposes of their inquiry.

RAILROADS of the country won a great victory when the Supreme court of the United States handed down its decision in the famous St. Louis & O'Fallon railroad case which on behalf of that obscure little railroad had been fought through all the courts. The immediate object was to have set aside an order issued by the interstate-commerce commission calling for a refund of a part of its earnings, coming under what is known as the recapture clause of the transportation act, permitting railroads to return one-half of their earnings in excess of 6 per cent, and requiring them to pay the other half to the government the other half.

Reversing a lower court decision and annulling the order, the Supreme court decided that the interstate-commerce commission must use the whole method of valuing railroads to reach a basis for rate making. Years of work by the commission must be done over again in full or in part. Present values and the cost of replacements must be considered by the commission in setting the basis of railroad compensation, the court ruled. This replaces the 1919 valuation now used by the commission. Justices Brandeis, Holmes and Stone dissented.

At first it was believed this decision would bring about higher passenger and freight rates, but later this was denied. The immediate effect on the New York Stock exchange was startling. Prices of rail stock soared with a rush of buying orders, but the advance was cut in half by liquidation in industrial stocks.

FORMER SENATOR IRVING L. LENROTH'S appointment to a federal judgeship was finally confirmed by the senate despite the determined opposition of a number of radicals. Soon thereafter a newspaper published what purported to be the roll call by which this action was taken in executive session, and this stirred up a row that has resulted in the barring of news service reporters from the floor of the senate. This step was taken by the rules committee and reported to the senate with a resolution censuring the unnamed senator or senators who had disclosed the roll call. After considerable discussion, Vice President Curtis announced that while news service reporters had been accorded the privilege of the floor "by courtesy for half a century or more," the rule restricting the persons entitled to admission will be rigidly enforced in the future.

FOLLOWING Colonel Lindbergh's flight in his amphibian plane to North Haven, Maine, carrying his fiancée, Anne Morrow; her mother and two sisters, the news developed that the youngest of the girls, Constance, had received extortion letters threatening her life if $50,000 were not paid to the writer. Constance got two of these notes at Milton academy, Westmore, Mass., where she is a sophomore. Attempts to catch the extortionist are being made.

Hoover by a jerry package failed, and at this writing his or her identity has not been discovered. For several days the Morrow family, heavily guarded by special officers, remained on their North Haven estate, and then Colonel Lindbergh took them all to New York in his plane.

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND and part of the financial district of New York were theatrically devastated by bombs dropped by the army's huge Keystone bomber which made a non-stop flight of 600 miles from the headquarters of the army air maneuvers at Fairfield, Ohio. Next day the bomber returned to the metropolis accompanied by a smaller biplane from which it was successfully refueled while in flight.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SIX clergymen, educators and leaders of religious thought in Great Britain and America have issued what is entitled "A British-American Message to the Churches and to All People of Good Will." It is an appeal for better understanding between the American and British peoples, and expresses the hope that all war may soon be abolished. The signers pledge themselves to accept in spirit and in fact the words of the Kellogg treaty; to "discontinue any and all expressions or acts which contemplate as necessary the use of any but pacific means for the settlement of disputes or conflicts; and to do our utmost to rally all men and women of good will to unite with us in this same determination."

WHILE the senate and house conferees continued in deadlock over the export control scheme in the senate's farm relief measure, the Republican members of the house tried to fix up their tariff bill so it would be assured of passage. There was a lot of log rolling and various trades were engineered. It was said duties would be placed on hides, leather and shoes and on a number of farm products. Every effort was being made by the leaders to prevent a vote on the floor of the house on amendments for a reduction in the proposed duty on sugar or for the restoration of cement, brick, shingles and lumber to the free list. The Michigan automobile industry together with other industries using alcohol, such as manufacturers of drugs and paints, were reported to have triumphed over Hiram and have grown who have been seeking a duty on blackstrap molasses high enough to stimulate the use of corn in the manufacture of alcohol.

RECENT disclosures of the activities of the International Paper and Power company in financing newspapers, made during the investigation by the federal trade commission, inspired Senator George Norris of Nebraska to deliver in the senate a long address in which he urged legislation to prevent the acquisition of newspapers by public utilities concerns and to curb the expansion of such corporations. The Nebraska senator accused President Hoover of putting Lenroot on the federal customs appeals bench, and bitterly denounced Samuel Insull, the Chicago public utility magnate.

Mr. Norris said he believed every newspaper in the country has had the opportunity to sell out to the "power trust," the existence of which he has been denouncing for years, and passionately pleaded with publishers to reject the offers of the power magnates so that the country might have a free press.

CHILE and Peru are immensely relieved by the settlement of the old Tacna-Arica dispute, which was formally announced in Washington. The agreement reached was that proposed by President Hoover. Under its terms Tacna is awarded to Peru and Arica to Chile. The city of Arica, the only port of call for steamers on the Tacna-Arica coastline, is awarded to Chile, but Peru is to have the rights of a free port there. Chile has agreed to erect a railroad station, a custom house, and a wharf at Arica for the use of Peru. Chile also agrees to pay Peru $4,000,000.

Bolivia, which had hoped for an outlet to the sea through the port of Arica, alone is dissatisfied with the settlement.

POOR old China seems to be on the verge of another great civil war. Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Nationalist government, and Gen. Feng Yu-shan, the "Christian general," have reached the parting of the ways and at last reports were about ready for armed operations against each other. At present the trouble is centered about Canton. Just what it is all about is difficult to understand at this distance, but Feng accuses Chiang of a desire to dominate the country, and warns foreign consuls against lending him assistance.

Dr. ALBERT VOEGELER, secretary of the German Federation of Industries, has resigned from the German committee of the conference of reparations experts and departed from Paris, which led to fears that the conference would be a complete failure. In any event it seemed certain the negotiations, if not broken off, would be prolonged. Germany has accepted the American reparations plan with certain conditions, and the allied nations had practically accepted these conditions, but, with reservations, the Germans indicated that the reservations of the allies were almost totally unacceptable and that they would yield no further, and the allies stated that their limit had been reached.

NEWSPAPER'S JOB PLANT NEW RESORT ON HIGGINS LAKE

(By E. M. T. Service)

Twenty-five acres with a frontage of 1,200 feet on Higgins Lake, Michigan, has been purchased by E. J. Hickey & Son of Detroit and Mrs. Hickey & Son of Grayling, Mich. They plan to subdivide the acreage into 18 lots, having a depth of 300 to 400 feet with a 50 foot street in front. The lake part will be reserved for future development. They plan to form an association among their friends and the resort will be conducted as a community project. Plans call for a central dining room. Some of the homes and a dining hall will be constructed this summer.

The old-fashioned man who thought that a rubber tire tire with red running gears was the last word in modern transportation, now has a son who is satisfied with something less than a straight eight that will do seventy without putting a sound in a kitten.

"Not only that, but the weekly of printing as well as the business of typesetting and press operation. They turn out some beautiful jobs. Do you remember that handsome Christmas announcement they printed for my store? Done in colors on the best paper, and at very low cost."

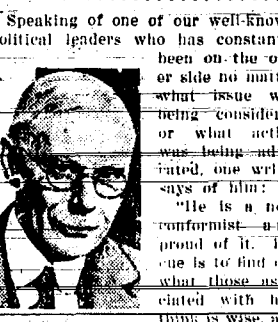

"It is because of their fine work. I guess that they are doing all the work for the community."

Our forefathers may have had to put up with muddy roads and tin wash basins but they didn't have to worry about germs because they didn't know that they had any.

THE NON-CONFORMIST

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Speaking of one of our well-known political leaders who has constantly been on the other side no matter what issue was being considered or what action was being advocated, one writer says of him: "He is a non-conformist—and proud of it. This one is to find out what those usually cited with him think is wise, and then to do his best in embarrassing them in realizing the success of their undertaking. He is of the team but never with it. He never wants to go in the same direction as the rest, at the same time. It seems though he makes it his business to find out what his supposed friends and allies want to do, and then opposes it."

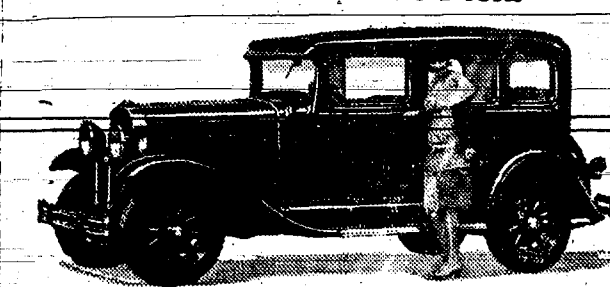

A great many people feel that it shows wisdom to find fault with whatever is being done, to pick flaws in whatever seems to have in it virtues as much as to pull in the opposite direction. They have no idea of the meaning of cooperation; they have never realized the power of team work.

Robbins is a nonconformist. He thinks most of our social customs poppycock, and he considers it a virtue to ignore them. For years he refused to wear a necktie. It was only when golfers and young sportsmen began running about with their shirt collars open that Robbins took to cravats. No one has ever been able to get him into evening clothes. He wears an old-fashioned cut-away coat while doing his chores about the house, and gets into a business suit when he is dressing for any formal function. He eats his salad with a spoon and drinks tea from a sugar bowl, and considers himself a reformer, while other people look upon him as something of a boob.

Young Spradling is another variety of the nonconformist. He thinks Mr. Volstead was crazy when he conceived prohibition; he pays no attention to the law. Nothing gives him so great a thrill as to drink publicly and copiously. Thirty-five miles an hour, the limit prescribed by law for motoring along the highway, is a snail's pace, and Spradling hits twice that pace with impunity. When he is arrested he rails against the injustice of limiting his progress with stop signs and traffic laws. Anything which attempts to keep Sunday quiet and orderly puts him into a frenzy. Why is Sunday better than any other day, he'd like to know? Any such conventions as chaperons and early hours for retiring, and midvictorian proprieties he consigns to the lower regions.

Jones was trying out for the basketball team last winter. He had a theory of his own as to how the game should be played, a theory which was quite at variance with the ideas of the coach. He wanted to play his own game in his own way, and so far as he could see, the other fellows were all wet, which is merely another way of saying that they didn't know what they were doing. Jones didn't make the team because he refused to conform.

Marquette Offered by Buick in Medium-Price Field

The Four Door Sedan is one of the six models comprising the new Marquette line just introduced by the Buick Motor Company

Buick dealers throughout the country today are displaying the Marquette, a new Six, produced and distributed by the Buick Motor Company. This car which will sell in the medium-price field, is offered in six models—a two-door sedan—a four-door sedan—a business coupe—a sport coupe—a roadster and a touring car. The Marquette is an exceptionally large car for its price class, having a wheelbase of 114 inches. Prices on the car range from $965 to $1035.

The six-cylinder L-head motor and the crankcase are cast in one integral unit. The engine has a bore and stroke of 8 1/2" by 4 1/2" and develops 57.5 maximum brake horsepower. Buick officials say the Marquette has remarkably quick acceleration and a maximum speed up in the seventies.

All models are designed along low-slung lines. The bodies are built by Fisher and finished in Duco distinctive fashion trends. The radiator which is covered with a metal grille is deep with a narrow chromium plated rim that balances with the chromium plated hub caps. The wheels are sturdy and carry large section 28x5.28 balloon tires.

The Marquette has a new non-glare Fisher VV-type windshield which sets at an angle of seven degrees from the perpendicular and eliminates all glare, whether from the rear, front or sides.

Other features embodied in the Marquette include large internal expanding Duo-Servo four-wheel brakes, an adjustable steering wheel, adjustable driver's seat, built-in bumper mountings and all chrome plated outside hardware. The soft, but durable, mohair upholstery is waterproof, impregnated under a new process with a rubber solution.

A full pressure lubricating system is used on the new car insuring a constant flow of oil to main bearings, connecting rod bearings, cylinder walls, camshaft bearings and the timing chain. The water-cooling system is thermostatically controlled and has ample capacity to keep the engine at normal temperature under all driving conditions.

The tapered chassis is exceptionally sturdy and, together with the long quarter springs, gives the Marquette new qualities of peaceful, smooth riding at all road speeds.
